WE HAVE ALUMNI THAT SHARED THEIR STORIES

I found my why, I was shown the way to my what"

I was confused about what to do, I have heard about the labor market and the level of confusion and unemployment around even for first class students. I was lucky to find Dabrandcity Academy. First, I had sessions on clarity to know where I desire to go, cause tech world is wide, and I could not afford to waste time learning something that will soon be obsolete or was not my area of strength. With the clarity road map, I found interest and potentials in mobile app development. The academy helped me draw a 5years plan, and then supported me with tutors' tools, textbooks and most importantly global bootcamps and collaborative assignments and certifications. That has elevated my capacity and value. - Oriyomi

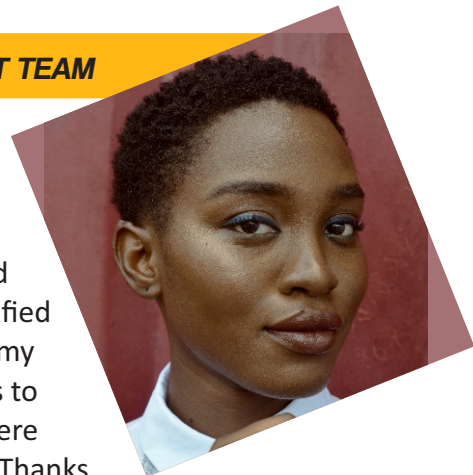

LANDED A GOOD PAYING REMOTE JOB

Did you know I got my first remote job immediately I finished? Do you know what it means for a corp member to be paid monthly on a remote job in Nigeria? That is how much value I got from the academy. I was taught and packaged for good paying jobs I personally did not know existed. I doubted the possibility of landing the job, I got invited to three interviews, and I was afraid, and the academy tutor supported me and helped me build clarity, certifications and portfolio that gave me the leverage. - Adewale

TECH IS EASIER WITH A GREAT SUPPORT TEAM

I have had experience with hard life in tech, I tried so many areas, back-end, PHP, Laravel. I was just series of fruitlessness. I got to Dabrandcity academy, and I learn not everyone needs to code as a tech lady. I was shown options like graphics, UIUX, project management etc. and I jumped on UIUX, Now I am an excellent graphics designer, UIUX professional certified by Dabrandcity academy and Google. I have gotten jobs before I finished my training sessions because of the portfolio I was told to build, I have access to communities in the tech space, I have access to wonderful mentors we were introduced to and here I am. I am a non-code tech lady. Thanks, DBC academy. You did not just teach, you provided guidance and remarkable support. - RACHEL

DISTANCE IS NOT A BARRIER

Frontend and backend development looked hard from afar, until I got to Dabrandcity Academy, the step-by-step guides, the understanding tutors, the learning options, the interactive sessions, the career courses, the clarity discussion made my learning curve so smooth and easy. Tutors were available when you need them, support was there, and I was consistently motivated to be on top on your learning schedule. One key word I remember in the inspiring sessions with the CEO was, the volume of investment determines the time frame to achieving my personal goals. I decided to learn what others learnt in 18months in I entered the academy just to learn a skill, I graduated with a skill, knowledge, application, and opportunities to leverage on. Thanks for the excellent opportunity! -

ITS NEVER TOO LATE TO LEARN

At 38years, 2019, with a child and unemployed wife, I lost my job as a banker, and thought the world is over, I had only ND and getting jobs was a mirage, I went to confide in my mentor because I was frustrated and without direction.

He gave me hope and directed me to Dabrandcity Academy, skeptically I attended the clarity session and got a little inspired at the possibilities in tech. I was a tech novice. I decided to learn graphics and website design, well today I am comfortable, and I have a business. I was not just taught website designs; I was thought he business of website design and graphics. I was handheld till I got my first two clients. Interestingly, till now when I have issues I relate with the Academy for help. I get jobs bigger than me and transfer to the Academy for support. I was not trained to acquire knowledge for knowledge's sake, I was trained to use it to earn a livelihood. My mentor knew this before directing me to the Academy. The Academy curated space and time for my peculiarity.

UPGRADE IS IMPORTANT TO STAY RELEVANT

As the General Manager of a 500Million worth poultry farm, I was concerned about becoming obsolete with the trends in the poultry industry around data analytical for management level decision making. At first, I thought the Academy was solely for young people until I had my first conversation. As a manager, time and tools can be adapted to my schedule and niche. I enrolled in business analytics. The tutor interesting, curated examples send assignments for my industry. The level of detail and personalization experienced was exemplary. I learnt excel and other analytical tools and honestly, I have been better for it. With the knowledge, I was able to convince my director on gather a 1Billion naira loan for expansion. Data do not lie was one key take away all though and it showed. I became a shareholder in the company because of my data driven opinions. - Dr Oni

INVEST IN KNOWLEDGE EVEN WHEN THINGS ARE BLINK

Unemployed and frustrated, I enrolled for digital Marketing with Dabrandcity academy, I squeezed out the payment, even paid in installment. I dare to say that the pattern of training was so practical and straightforward that in less than a month I was bold enough to start announcing to people that I am a digital marketer. As an addon the company got me jobs that I could start with, I was paid as a digital marketing consultant for companies. Today, I collaborate with a great firm as their digital team lead while I run my personal digital marketing hustles in the side. Imagine all I learnt was theory and not the whole package including getting a job, interview skills, CV packaging, drawing a career path and collaborating with teams, I would just be another individual with knowledge without knowing how to use it.
